This week's wish list and the latest insider info

If you could buy only one make-up item?

When asked: 'If your budget would only allow you to buy one piece of make-up, what would it be?' 35 per cent of women responded with mascara, 31 per cent chose foundation and 11 per cent said lipstick.

'Mascara is the easiest make-up product to apply and makes the biggest single difference to your face,' says make-up artist Caroline Barnes.

Figures from the Olay Regenerist Big British Beauty Poll: Part 2, analysed by Ipsos Mori.

BUDGET V BLOW IT

BUDGET
Nspa Jojoba and White Musk Dry Body Oil, £2.95 at Asda. This sinks easily into your skin without any greasiness. Use it straight after your bath or shower to seal in moisture. It smells lovely, so you could also use it as a body spray.

BLOW IT
No7 Pampering Dry Oil Body Spray, £9.50. Spritz it all over, paying extra attention to any dry areas. Spray it along your shins for gleaming legs.

EASY A-LIST SKIN

She might have a clutch of trophies for her role in Les Misérables but we think Anne Hathaway should scoop an award for her dedication to good skincare.

Her UK facialist Joanne Goodman told us: 'Anne's routine is simple but keeps her skin in superb condition.'

'She has the occasional facial but basically uses three products: Epicuren Herbal Cleanser, £30.50; Epicuren Brazilian Rainforest Propolis Mist, £26.50, and Acidophilus Probiotic Moisturiser, £23. This is my skincare philosophy: keep it simple but do it regularly!' Call 01256 345605 for stockists.

GENIUS TWEEZERS

Eyebrow queen Shavata has introduced lip tweezers, £21 (www.qvc.co.uk), into her range.

Yep, that's lip tweezers for those odd moustache hairs or chin bristles, the little tool being perfect for tackling the hardest-to-get-at hairs. A glamorous product for an unglamorous – but necessary – job!
